The Granville GIS website has many different features available. Below the following features will be explored:

- Using the Search Feature
- How to Navigate
- Tools: Measure, Layers, Print
- Advanced Options
- Attribute Table
- Query

Search

You can search the Tax database using any of the following:

- Owner
- Record Number
- Map Number
- Address
- Road Name

Type your search into the search bar, then you can click on the result that you are looking for. It may be necessary to scroll down a bit to find the correct result. Once you click on the correct result, the map will take you to that feature and a pop-up box will show available information about that feature.

If you'd like to do a specific search, use the drop down next to the search bar and select the field you would like to search.

Here you also view a parcel's property record card (PRC). Once the pop-up has displayed for a parcel query, click on "PRC" and you will be linked to the latest available property record card for that parcel.

At the bottom right hand corner of the pop-up, use the 3 dot menu to view the data in an attribute table:

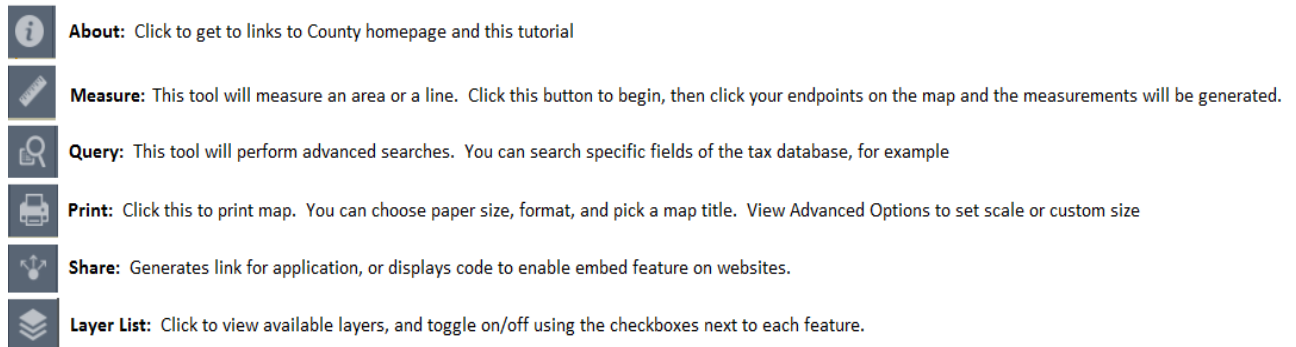

This option will give you the ability to view fields in different table, and organize the data in a more meaningful way. While this option is robust, it won't be necessary for the average user of the site.

Note: The measure and print tools are not legally binding and are in no way a substitute for surveys.

Layer Options:

Next to each layer, there is a 3-dot menu that will give the following options:

- Zoom to - Shows the entire extent of a layer if available
- Transparency
- Disable pop-ups - Determines whether or not a layer has a pop-up that turns on when selected
- Hide Labels - Turns on/off text associated with a layer
- Move up - Moves layer up in list
- Move down - Moves layer down in list
- View in Attribute Table - Opens table at bottom for a layer

In the Parcel pop-up, there is a link to generate a quick print of the selected parcel. This page is generated in portrait format and contains a picture of the parcel that has been selected, as well as the tax data associated with it. This is provided as a fast way for citizens to view their parcel. If you would like to have a custom print out with parameters that you set yourself, make sure to use the normal print
